The Southeast Asia Club invites papers for its interdisciplinary 2019 Southeast Asia Student Conference. Papers may be submitted on any topic pertaining to Southeast Asia. Undergraduate and graduate papers welcome.

Best paper awards will be given for both undergraduate and graduate papers.

ABSTRACTS
Deadline: Feb. 8, 2019
250-word limit
Include title, presenter name, and affiliation.
Send abstracts to: niuseaclub@niu.edu
(“Student Conference” subject line)

SPONSORS
Center for Southeast Asian Studies
School of Music
Graduate Colloquium
Center for Burma Studies

KEYNOTE
Andrew Weintraub (PhD University of California-Berkeley) is a professor in the University of Pittsburgh’s Department of Music specializing in the music of Southeast Asia. His research and publications in the fields of ethnomusicology and cultural theory address music and cultural rights, the pop culture of Islam, and sound repatriation.